

In The News - December 2021

A collection of noteworthy and topical articles we found helpful this month

Casualty

- After steep rate increases, commercial insurance prices are expected to soften gradually.
Read More

Property

- When contracts renew in 2022, reinsurance rates in catastrophe-related lines may increase by more than 10%.
Read More

Professional Liability

- Although certain industries are especially vulnerable to claims of negligence, anyone who provides professional services is at risk. Here's an explanation of professional negligence.
Read More
- Law firms can mitigate risk with professional liability insurance, cyber liability insurance, business owner's policies and other key coverage types.
Read More

Cyber Liability

- As cyber underwriting matures, underwriters are positioned to help make companies safer from growing cyber threats.
Read More
- The ransomware threat continues to evolve. In the third quarter of 2021, ransomware began to move away from targeting large companies in favor of middle-market organizations.
Read More
- Unpredictable downtime can threaten businesses. Socius and Parametrix have teamed up to launch cloud downtime coverage.
Read More

Healthcare

- For medical facilities, ransomware attacks can lead to medical malpractice claims and other liability risks.
Read More

D&O

- The SEC is aiming to establish oversight of crypto assets. Here's where regulation stands now.
Read More

Other

- M&A claim notifications have increased 40%. Here's a look at the causes behind the trend.
Read More